

Adam Noble... off to Paris to compete.

Next stop, Paris

NEXT Hair's Adam Noble is setting off for Paris, to compete in the Goldwell Color Zoom Challenge, an international hairdressing competition which will share the stage with Valentino, Chanel, Dior and more at Paris Fashion Week.

The contest, which will be held from October 10-12, will feature hairdressing talent from 27 other countries.

Adam will be joined by Canberra's Madeline Rose Fein, who placed third in "Australia's Next Top Model" in 2006.

He's the only Canberra stylist to have picked up the prestigious title of Australian Hairdresser of the Year, and took out the Partner Colourist Category of the Australian round to win the chance to compete in Paris.
